JERSEY'S DRY LAW NULLIFICATION BILL FILED IN SUPREME COURT

Declares 18th Amendment Conflicts With Other Clauses of Constitution and Was Illegally Ratified—Sut Starts Monday.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 4.—The state of New Jersey filed today in the United States supreme court a bill of complaint asking that the prohibition amendment and the Volstead enforcement act be declared null and void.

Joseph A. Lanigan, assistant attorney general of New Jersey filed the bill of complaint, which was drawn by Attorney General McCrane by the authority of Governor Edwards, elected on a "wet" platform last November. One of the objects of the suit is to prevent United States Attorney General Palmer and Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper from enforcing the Volstead act in New Jersey.

Attorney General McCrane will appear in the supreme court on Monday to proceed with the suit. New Jersey charges that the eighteenth amendment is null and void for these reasons:

That the eighteenth amendment is not proper under article V of the constitution. There is no power in congress to propose an amendment regulating conduct and morals and that article V permits only such amendments as are alterations or additions within the scope of the constitution.

That there is no power in the states to ratify an amendment such as the eighteenth.

That two-thirds of the members of both houses of congress "did not deem such an amendment necessary" within the true intent and meaning of article V of the constitution.

That the prohibition contained in the amendment is legislative matter under article I of the constitution and not properly an amendment under article V.

As legislative matter it was not properly passed by congress and submitted to the president of the United States and is therefore void and of no effect.

That in 21 states, South Dakota, Oregon, Nevada, Montana, Oklahoma, Maine, Missouri, Michigan, Arkansas, Colorado, Arizona, California, Ohio, Nebraska, North Dakota, Washington, Missouri, Utah, Massachusetts, Maryland and New Mexico, the legislatures have not ratified as provided by the constitution of such states and that therefore three-fourths of the states have not ratified in the constitutional sense.

That the alleged eighteenth amendment establishes a centralization of power and authority and without the consent of the people for the state of New Jersey and is unalterable and unrevocable at all times by them and is therefore inconsistent with fundamental purposes expressed in the preamble of the constitution "to form a more perfect union and to secure the blessings of liberty to posterity," and establishes a precedent whereby no powers will be reserved to the respective states as provided in article I of the constitution, because the reserve powers of the states may be annulled and destroyed under the guise and pretense of amending the constitution.

FROM HORSE CARS TO AUTO BUSES

Now that the people are protesting over the proposal of the Kingston Consolidated railroad to take up its tracks on Washington avenue and efforts are being made by a taxicab company to obtain permission to run auto buses over many of the city streets, it may be interesting to know that it is nearly 50 years ago that the first horse car was run through the streets in the village of Kingston and Rondout.

The line started near the Higginsville bridge on Bridge street, (now Washington avenue), through North Front street, Green street, John street, Fair street, Main street East Front street, St. James street, Union street (now Broadway), to Rondout, then down Broadway street now Broadway to Perry street to the terminus at the Rhinecliff ferry.

The fare was ten cents through and less cents Van Gaskew took up the fare by "bait" through the cars at the bridge which was on Union avenue a few hundred feet north of Chester street. The first cars were hauled by a team, and besides the driver there was a conductor.

James Norton, a veteran stage driver who drove horse cars on the line for a number of years and later was a teamster, and who in an interview, says the first horse car was run on the line owned by Major General Edwards and prominent citizens, and that the first car was driven by James Norton, being driven by James Norton, being driven by James Norton, being driven by James Norton.

SPANG WILL IS DECLARED VOID

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 4.—The $2,000,000 will of Mrs. Rosa Spang late widow of a Pittsburgh steel millionaire was declared void when a surrogate court jury returned a verdict early today that Mrs. Spang was of unsound mind when she signed the testament. The jury reported at 3:15 o'clock, after having been out for more than 12 hours. Mrs. Spang, who died at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on June 22, 1919, had left the bulk of her estate to found a home for abandoned girls until they could become self-supporting. The will was contested by a daughter, Mrs. Mabel C. Ankers, of Copenhagen, Denmark, who had been bequeathed only a nominal sum.

During the long trial, which was marked by much salacious testimony as to Mrs. Spang's whims, it was brought out that Mrs. Spang had drawn two wills. In the first she left the bulk of her estate and an annuity of $100,000 to her daughter but in the second, drawn just before her death, she left nearly all her estate for the creation of a foundation for the home for girls. Mrs. Spang's husband was the late Charles H. Spang.

Following the announcement of the verdict, former Senator Edgar T. Brackett, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., moved the general probate of the will, but was overruled.

The taking of testimony began on January 21. It was revealed that despite her advanced age, Mrs. Spang believed she had "a spiritual affinity."

INDIAN "REDS" SUSPECT LENINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, March 4.—Berlin agents of the Indian and Afghan Communists, who are engaged in an anti-British propaganda, are claiming that the Moscow soviet government "double crossed" them by making peace overtures to the entente, according to a dispatch from Berlin to the Daily Express today.

These representatives of the Communists from India and Afghanistan declare they have been giving support to Lenin and that now they are sending a delegate to Copenhagen to demand from Litvinoff (of the soviet government) an explanation of the recent peace overtures that were made to allied countries.

The activities of the Indian and Afghan agents is said to be directed chiefly among Mohammedan exiles. They include the recruitment of officers to be sent to Reval and Petrograd and thence to Samara, where the Indian revolutionary troops are reported to be organizing.

SNEAD CASE OCCUPIES COURT

James E. Snead Trying To Collect From Farm Tenants Who, He Says, Sold Off Stock, Crops and Timber And Paid No Rent.

The first case taken up this morning when supreme court convened was the action brought by James E. Snead against Mrs. Emma Preuss of the town of Saugerties to recover for the sale of a quantity of farm products and personal property which Mr. Snead claims were sold by the defendant while she and her husband occupied the Snead farm a mile above the village of Saugerties.

According to the testimony Mr. Snead rented his farm to the plaintiff and her husband in October, 1917, for which a rental of $400 was agreed upon. The Preuss family was to secure produce as was on the farm at the time, consisting of a large quantity of hay, hogs, wheat and other produce, for which Mr. Snead was to be paid as soon as certain money was received by Mrs. Preuss. She was to purchase these crops together with a quantity of farm implements and stock for a reasonable price. According to the evidence she and her husband moved on the farm and during the next few months disposed of the stock and crops and also cut a quantity of timber. Up to this time Mr. Snead testified he has received nothing. Mr. Preuss died some time ago and the action is being brought against Mrs. Preuss.

There were several encounters between counsel during the morning session as to just what the plaintiff could recover as certain things were not mentioned in the complaint. Judge Nichols ruled that the timber, which was not mentioned when the farm was rented, could not figure in the present action as it had been removed without the consent or knowledge of the owner of the property and had not been a part of the original bargain.

Although the personal property and crops, including several hogs, horses, cows and other produce were sold and Mrs. Preuss stated to Mr. Snead that she would pay for them, he had not received such money or rental for the farm. Mrs. Preuss supplied Mr. Snead with a time with butter and other farm produce which he valued at about $75, besides boarding two colts for which he was to pay board.

The amount sought is in the neighborhood of $1,200, after deducting the board and butter bill. Henry Klein and Milton O. Auchmoody appear for the plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendant.

The defendant claims she made no bargain with Mr. Snead but that her husband, now deceased, made the agreement and therefore she is not liable. Mr. Snead claims she was a party to the agreement.

The case was continued this afternoon.

POLICE SCANDAL IN NEW YORK

Detectives Charged With Wholesale Extortion and Corruption in Dealings With Street Women—$300 Brought Girls' Freedom Many Times.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 4.—A police scandal that promises to assume the proportions of the famous Becker case was disclosed here today following the indictment by a grand jury of Detective John Gunson on charges of bribery and extortion. An investigation of the entire police department in under way and it is alleged that ten other plain clothes men, two bondsmen and an attorney are involved in a form of wholesale grafting from women in the streets.

It was announced from the district attorney's office that the investigation is in its infancy and will uncover the worst scandal in the police department for years. Gunson is specifically charged with having accepted $50 from a woman of the streets for promised protection and also with having extorted money from the same woman by threatening her with arrest unless she "paid up."

The woman, Rebecca Mallardo, told James Smith, assistant district attorney, that Gunson persuaded her to operate in the upper Broadway "white way" district and, with other detectives, promised her protection. Every morning, she declared, she divided the proceeds with Gunson.

The Mallardo girl said she had known Gunson three years, and had given him about $5,000 and many presents, including theater tickets, silk shirts, jewelry and meals. She said she had lived with him as "his sister" and had acted as a "rounder up" of other girls who had refused to "come through" with money for protection. Rose Gonzales and Estelle Young, two other women of the streets, corroborated her story.

Both the Mallardo girl and Rose Gonzales asserted they had many a time bought their freedom from policemen after they had been arrested, paying as high as $500 for their release.

When the Mallardo girl decided to "go straight," she charged Gunson persecuted her and demanded that she follow her old vocation, driving her from positions and forcing her to keep out of the mid-town district under Gunson's jurisdiction.

All three women charged that it was often necessary for women of the streets to tell their jewelry and pawn their clothing to "meet the pull off" demands of the police.

"The scandal we have uncovered in the police department would be incredible were it not supported by the strongest evidence," said Smith today. "The probe has just begun and far more sensational charges are being investigated."

HOUSE WETS PLAY POLITICS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 4.—House "wets" made a vigorous assault today on the Volstead prohibition enforcement act for the purpose of putting members on record on the wet and dry issue to be used in the political campaigns.

Representative Gannon, of New Jersey, a "wet," offered a resolution to send the legislative appropriation bill back to committee with instructions to eliminate from it an appropriation of $4,500,000 for prohibition enforcement and to insert new legislation providing for the repeal June 30 next of the Volstead enforcement law.

Vigorous opposition was made by Representatives Garrett, Tennessee; Woods, Indiana; Barkley, Kentucky; Blanton, Texas, and other "drys" to the irregularity of the proceedings.

SENATE TANGLED WORSE THAN EVER

With Part of Lodge Reservations Adopted Party Lines Disappear and Little Groups Fight For and Against—All Leaders Declare Wilson Alone Can Break Deadlock.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 4.—The anniversary of President Wilson's second inauguration today found party lines in the senate wiped out by the deadlock on the peace treaty which Democratic and Republican leaders alike declared only the president himself could break up.

Democratic and Republican senators were split into factions irrespective of their political affiliation by the conflict of opinion regarding the Lodge reservations.

One group of Democrats and Republicans favoring ratification and opposed to the treaty being made a campaign issue was still engaged in seeking a compromise on the long disputed Lodge reservation to Article X of the League of Nations covenant.

Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, one of the Republican "mild reservationists," was at work writing the reservation in the hope of finding some way of extricating the senate from the apparently hopeless jam it has caught.

Senator Kellogg and a number of other "mild reservationists," with a number of Democratic senators who are not in accord with the president's desire to inject the treaty into the campaign, are working together. Little hope was held out, however, by Democratic and Republican leaders that a conference of these would prevent ratification from being blocked for the second time.

Another group of Democrats and Republicans either opposed unalterably to ratification on any condition, or only on the basis of the original Lodge reservations covering Article X, and the Monroe Doctrine, without modification, stood in the way of further efforts to secure a compromise.

The situation found Republicans arrayed against Democrats and Democrats pitted against Democrats, a situation, which is freely predicted, would continue to give party leaders outside of the senate much to think about during the campaign.

Debate on the treaty is to continue today with the six Lodge reservations, that involving the Shantung dispute, still before the senate.

MONTESANO TRIAL NEARS ITS END

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Montesano, Wa., Feb. 4.—Today heralds the closing scenes in the trial of ten alleged I. W. W. charged with the Centralia armistice day murders. The defense probably will complete its case.

Attorneys for both sides believe that all direct testimony will be completed by the end of the week.

Determined efforts will be made again by the defense attorney George F. Vandervoer, to introduce evidence tending to show that Centralia business interests had plotted the eradication of the I. W. W. from that city. The ruling of Judge Wilson that the defense shall not introduce such evidence is based on his assertion that the defense has not shown sufficient evidence to date that Warren O. Griffin participated in an alleged raid on the I. W. W. hall.

Man Who Bailed Jenkins in Mexico and Who is Held for Molesting 12-Year-Old Girl, Says Patriotism Caused Him to Free Consular Agent—Went to Mexico While on Bail.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 4.—John A. Hanson, arrested here last night on an old charge of impairing the morals of a minor, today admitted to a representative of the International News Service that he is "J. Salter Hanson," who gave bail to effect the release of United States Consular Agent Jenkins in Mexico last year, which averted a crisis between Mexico and the United States.

Hanson declared he had put up the $500 bail from purely personal motives and denied that the Mexican government had influenced his act. "I never saw Jenkins in my life," he added. "And I have no diplomatic connections with any government. I was moved to pay the bail when I saw war brewing between Mexico and the United States. My patriotism, compelled me to prevent a conflict."

He also declared that Jenkins had been "justly arrested." He then added that his act of furnishing bail had brought about his arrest here last night. He blamed Standard Oil Company officials, saying "my arrest on this old charge, that was previously dropped, and the Jenkins case are closely related. The Standard Oil Company, with great interests in Mexico, is in back of it."

Hanson also declared the charge was "being used as a club" to compel him to settle a civil suit for $25,000 damages brought against him by the parents of the minor.

Hanson was first arrested in December, 1918, on complaint of Mrs. Myra Wooster, wife of a New York broker. She accused Hanson of molesting her 12-year-old daughter in a direct motion picture theater. Hanson was out on bail after the jury disagreed when he went to Mexico. The civil suit was filed later. Hanson was held for trial on the old charge under $2,500 in court today. He pleaded not guilty.

HOUSE DRIES IN GREAT MAJORITY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 4.—A test vote in the house today on the wet and dry question resulted in a decisive victory for the dries, 234 to 86. The vote came over the vigorous objection of the dries, who evidently wanted to escape a record vote on the resolution to send the legislative appropriation bill back to the committee, with instructions to strike out of it an appropriation of $4,500,000 for prohibition enforcement.

The resolution also provided for the repeal on June 30 next of the Volstead enforcement law. It was possible to get a vote only after considerable opposition. The dries appealed to Speaker Gillett to declare the proceedings out of order, but the speaker refused to do so. Then Representative Caldwell of New York moved for a vote and it was taken.

WALKER HAS 275 BEER LAW

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., March 4.—Wet legislators today began another assault on the enforcement of the present national prohibition law.

Senator James J. Walker, Democratic leader of the senate introduced in the legislature a bill which would permit the sale under state law of beer with an alcoholic content of not more than 2.75 per cent by weight. The bill is identical in all other respects to the "three per cent beer bill," introduced last year by Senator J. Henry Walters, Republican senate leader.

It would bar the sale of 2.75 per cent beer in saloons but permit its sale by wholesalers to individuals for home consumption in quantities of not more than five wine gallons.

"FINE PICTURE", THEIR VERDICT

Professional Men And Women See Birth Of A Race As Guests Of Manager Gildersleeve.

About 100 doctors, lawyers, clergymen, city officials and school principals were the guests Wednesday afternoon of Manager George C. Gildersleeve at the Kingston Opera House where an exhibition showing of the film "The Birth of a Race" was given following the regular afternoon performance.

It might have been termed a "censorship" performance but for the fact that there was nothing to censor. Such exclamations as "fine," "a wonderful picture" made to Mr. Gildersleeve at the end of the performance, sensed the unanimous verdict of those present.

"The Birth of a Race" is probably the biggest masterpiece in the photo play world since the Birth of a Nation. It is a story of the struggle for brotherhood, peace and democracy. From the time that Mrs. Eve tempted Adam with a shiny red apple to the time when the Kaiser threw the world in a turmoil, each link in the chain of human equality is connected. There is Noah's ark, the ark, the trial and crucifixion of Christ, the landing of Columbus, the signing of the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln in the act of signing his signature to the Emancipation Proclamation.

The picture is being shown today, tomorrow and Saturday.

WOMEN AT FARM INSTITUTES

At each of the Farmers' Institutes to be held next week at Bruynswick on Monday, March 8th; Modena, Tuesday, March 9th and Kerhonkson, Wednesday, March 10th, there will be a separate women's session in the afternoon, conducted by Mrs. Lucile Hale Call of the Farmers' Institute staff and Miss L. M. Stuart, Home Bureau Manager.

Mrs. Call now of Stafford, Genesee county will be the main speaker at these Women's Meetings. Mrs. Call was formerly one of the most successful managers in the state and was located in Otsego county. In February, Mrs. Call spoke at Institutes held at Mt. Marion, Woodstock and Ashbury, and everyone who heard her was so intensely interested in the many new and valuable points which she brought out in her talks, that the Home Bureau made a special effort to have her for the speaker at these Women's Meetings next week. At Bruynswick and Modena, Mrs. Call's subject will be Clothing, including facts about the selection of material and points to be considered in remodeling garments. Further, she will take up the subject of renovating clothing, including the dry cleaning process, removing spots and stains and dyeing. Mrs. Call's subject at Kerhonkson will be Home Conveniences, including the making and use of many practical labor saving devices that every housekeeper could use to good advantage.

The Home Bureau program for 1920 will be taken up at each of these meetings by Miss L. M. Stuart, Home Bureau Manager for Ulster county.

These in charge of the Women's Meetings at these Farmers' Institutes are: Mrs. Ira Tutbill, Bruynswick; Mrs. Seymour Terwilliger, Modena; and Mrs. Chester Froer, Kerhonkson. Everyone is urged to be present. A large attendance is expected at each meeting. Last year Modena held the record for Ulster county with the largest attendance at any of the Institutes held in the county.

He was appointed United States Senator in June, 1907, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of John T. Morgan. He was re-elected last November 2, 1918. His term would have expired on March 2, 1923. SEAL SALE NOT YET SETTLED

Final Accounting Delayed Because Link Club Pledges Have Not All Been Paid—Anti-Tuberculosis Work in County.

Wednesday evening there was an important meeting of the Executive Council of the Ulster County Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis held at the home of the Secretary, Dr. Mary Gage-Day. Harvey Dee Brown, State Campaign Director for the Seal Sale for the State Charities Aid Association, was present and, in addition to the consideration of the settling up the accounts of the recent seal sale, there were other notable matters taken up.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler, the president, presided, and following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, the seal sale settlement came up for discussion. While Kingston has gone well over the top in this as in all other campaigns, a matter of congratulation and pride, it is behind-hand in making its final accounting, because a few of those who pledged themselves as members of the $100 Limit Club have overlooked, so far, paying their pledges. While Mr. Brown was most complimentary in what he had to say of the campaign in the county and of the efforts of the campaign manager, Herbert Carl, he also made it very plain that it was absolutely necessary that our accounting be made with all speed now. While our accounts to date were approved, it is now up to us to see to it that all outstanding pledges be secured and the entire matter brought to a close.

When that is done, The Freeman will again publish the names of those who have paid $100 and all other data, such as the records of the various county sections, etc., in which the public will be interested. Mrs. Frank Thompson, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of this city was present and submitted the following list of those persons who had contributed $5 and over, up to $50, through the Federation workers in the various wards. The money so contributed has been accounted for in a previous report in The Freeman, and each contributor received a health bond:

Then considering other phases of tuberculosis work, it was voted to appropriate from the committee funds the sum of $200 to go toward the furnishing of necessities for children in needy tuberculosis families.

Dr. Day reported that Miss Lillian N. Stuart, manager of the Ulster County Home Bureau, had expressed to her for the Tuberculosis committee, the thanks of the Home Bureau for the loan of Miss Brown, visiting tuberculosis nurse, for the intensive health campaign recently held in Gardiner. The committee felt that the instruction and aid given by Miss Brown at the time mentioned was excellent preventive work and were indeed glad to be able to contribute her services.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that there was need at present of an after-the-fact clinic in this city and it was unanimously voted that the visiting nurse committee be empowered to increase the number of clinics to two a month, one in the city and one outside the city according to the need and circumstances.

After considerable discussion it was determined that if it could be arranged that the two visiting nurses and the committee could operate more intensively than has been done in the past, it would be mutually helpful to both the tuberculosis work and the community generally to the county for the work and would also undoubtedly result in greater efficiency in the fight against the great white plague in Ulster county. In order to bring about this closer co-operation, the executive committee will hereafter meet once a month at which time both nurses will be expected to personally give a report of their work for the month just past. It was also voted to raise the pay of each of the nurses to $115 a month. The committee hopes to be able to present the long deferred final report on the seal sale in a few days now.

In Largest Tunnel.

The longest railway tunnel on the American continent is the Rogers pass tunnel on the Rocky mountain division of the Canadian Pacific line, which is five miles in length and runs under Mount McDonald, in the Selkirk range. It was constructed at a cost of more than $1,000,000.

"Hill, Columbus"

"Hill, Columbus" was written by Joseph Thompson. April 29, 1788, when the United States was threatened with a war with France. It was composed to the air of the "President's March" for a young actor and singer in the Philadelphia theater, and became at once highly popular.

CLOTHES TO WEAR

Apparel Which Is Becoming to Some, Not to Others.

Do Not Follow Fashion Too Closely in Skirt Lengths, Advises Fashion Writer.

Don't wear a skirt with drapery of long fringe that suggests the Hawaiian grass skirt, advises a fashion writer in the Buffalo Express. Now there are some overplump women who have a fondness amounting almost to a passion for a fringe. They are convinced that it is one of the things that make them look slender. Well, it may sometimes, but remember that the long fringe about the hips and thighs has a way of undulating as you walk. It accentuates what you may regard as a very irksome swaying motion but what is probably nothing more nor less than a waddle.

Don't wear kimono sleeves—especially the short kimono sleeves that are probably going to be very much in fashion as the season advances. It is one of the things that some stout women will want to wear. They are so comfortable and cool. But they tend to make the arms look short, and they do not produce that length of line which is so much to be desired by the woman of too rotund figure.

And please don't wear small high heels. A high heel is well enough if it is of the military sort, for then it seems, at least, as if you were having adequate support for your weight. But when the heel is both small and high and your entire weight seems to be thrust forward on a very small part of the ball of your foot, then the effect is truly painful.

Don't follow the fashion too closely in regard to skirt lengths. Short skirts were never meant for you—that is very short skirts. On the other hand, if you are a large woman—tall as well as heavily built—the skirt that is very long will make you look larger than you are. The best thing for you to do is to stick to a skirt that is short enough to look smart and trim, but not so short as to display the too ample rotundity of your legs.

The double-breasted coat or suit gives the appearance of greater width to chest and bust than the single-breasted model. For this reason it is better to select the latter sort. Large or striking buttons on the jacket or coat certainly do not contribute to the appearance of smallness. These things are best avoided.

Don't imagine that black suits is always your best selection. Most stout women wear it a great deal. But the very gloss about it sometimes accentuates the curves of the wearer. A dark silk with less gloss, such as a crepe de chine or a pussy willow taffeta, is a better selection. Duvelyn with its extremely soft, flat surface is a material that may be safely worn by the stout woman.

And don't be misled into thinking that the uncorseted effect in clothes was ever intended for such as you. Even if you are only moderately plump, please don't attempt it.

ANGORA CLOTH IS POPULAR

Favorite Combination Method Is to Make Skirt of Silk and Trim With Bands.

When satin or knitted silk fabric is combined with angora, a favorite method is to make the skirt of the silk fabric and trim it with one, two or three bands of the angora, the entire skirt or skirt to be of the wool fabric. While white and light bright colors are first place, darker colors are not unbecoming. One striking costume recently seen featured a skirt and skirt of angora in Indian or gypsy colorings worn in broad stripes.

Angora cloth is not only warm, but warm looking. It is an ideal fabric for sportswear. Last season it appeared in the separate skirts worn with sports or semi-sports suits everywhere during the first fall days, before winter furs were donned, and on the full links throughout the winter. This year it has covered the field of sportswear with a vengeance.

The sport frock that consists of skirt and blouse appears to be the season's favorite. It is being developed in all sorts of attractive silk and wool fabrics for wear at the American winter resorts.

THE MATCHMAKER

By ADELAIDE R. KEMP.

Margaret leaned forward in the seat of the buggy. "Come, Ned," she said in a pleading tone. "Do go ahead, there's a dear. Won't you know you are making an exhibition of yourself?"

This was followed by a clucking sound and two claps from the driver's seat. But Ned had succumbed to coyness and proved obstinate to even her pleading voice. Margaret well what might happen with Ned? Now I am probably doomed to stay here for several hours." It was at this moment that she was startled by the sound of a young man who had come along the road unheeded.

"Thank you for the valuable tip," Margaret was called, and she

if you are going my way perhaps you could jump in and ride too." He quickly accepted the invitation and they were soon chatting like old friends. In the interchange of conversation Margaret learned that his name was Robert Mason, that he had just returned from overseas hospital, and was now in the little town of his father's business for a month to recuperate.

"This is my sister," said Margaret enough when he was a boy to warrant my calling and talking about him." They were close to the porch now, and a stately white-haired lady was in the doorway.

"Thank you," answered Robert in his boyhood's home. He said Sarah was named for his grandmother—all kinds. He was quite astonished at his coming. But Margaret only laughed softly.

"You look like a boy I once knew," said Robert.

American of the earlier period by political opponents pretty clearly indicate that there never were any such times in this country.

The bouquets thrown by the British to George Washington have not caused a single political ripple in this country, but if they had half as much in praise of any living American his party opponents would at once make him an object of suspicion if not a proved betrayer of his country.

England and France are at peace with Germany, but so far the United States and Germany have agreed only to an armistice. We were in the war only about sixteen months. The armistice has already covered sixteen months and promises to outlast the war itself.

AT THE THEATERS.

"Blind Husbands" at Keeney's—
"Birth of a Race" at Opera House.

An unusual story with a daring theme and awe inspiring scenery are the outstanding characteristics of the film story of the Tyrolean Alps which opens today at Keeney's for a two day engagement. The story is an amazing intrigue of love with a vigorous lesson in decency, clearly told. Elmer Clayton, star of "Men, Women and Money," at the Auditorium tonight, depicts a girl whose parents have sacrificed without stint, in order that she may have the things that have been denied them. After she travels the primrose path and suffers for it she is brought to an appreciation of paternal sacrifice and love. The attraction tomorrow will be Margaret Fisher in "The Mantle of Charity."

As everyone knows this year is one in which love reigns supreme, and, as much of the plot of "Upstairs and Down," the New York success, deals with love, it makes the play very appropriate for leap year presentation. The play is also as funny as a Chaglin picture burlesque, stuff that has tired the American theatergoers so much of recent years. Seats for this play will go on sale Friday morning at the box office for Monday matinee and night.

A most beautiful and impressive funeral service was held Monday afternoon at the Methodist Church for Mrs. May Turrentine, wife of the Rev. F. M. Turrentine, a former pastor of the church. The church was filled with friends, some time before the hour set for the funeral.

Mrs. J. W. Feeter and Mrs. Rose Caldwell, warm friends of Mrs. Turrentine, acted as ushers.

Thirty members of the P. E. O. Sisterhood of which she was an active member, marched to the church in a body and were seated at the left of the family pews. As the funeral service proceeded, Mrs. Kelsey, organist of the church, Mrs. Kelsey, played the funeral march.

Mrs. Turrentine's Sunday school class of young men, who were led by the superintendent of the school, F. T. Metcalf, marched into the church, each carrying a beautiful floral tribute. As they counter-marched up the main aisle, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Foster Coons started reading the service, "I Am the Resurrection." The Rev. Mr. Coons was accompanied by the district superintendent, the Rev. H. E. Wright, of Newburgh, and was followed by the Rev. Dr. George H. Scofield, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. George A. Shahan, of Poughkeepsie, pastor of the Washington Street Church. The Rev. Dr. Palmer of New York city, former district superintendent, and the Rev. Richard E. Bell, of the Trinity Church, Poughkeepsie, they in turn were followed by the Sunday school class and then came the bearers, all close friends of the family, who were the Messrs J. W. Feeter, F. L. Metcalf, Arthur Nash, Howard Wilcox, Harry Maynard and Mr. Jabeaux, of Croton, N. Y., all of whom were wearing beautiful white carnations. On the top of the beautiful dove gray casket were the loving tributes of the family, two flat bouquets of pink roses and ferns.

The many floral tributes were banked about the altar. The service was conducted by the district superintendent, who paid a most beautiful and touching tribute to the deceased, as did each one who followed him. Dr. Scofield read the first scripture lessons which was followed by the second lesson by the Rev. Shahan. The soloist, Mr. Barlow, a nephew of Liberty, sang very touching Mrs. Turrentine's favorite selection, "Savior More Than Life to Me." Mr. Palmer spoke of "The Woman Beautiful." The Rev. Bell, who was the next speaker, told of the wonderful life of loving, unflinching service of this noble woman who had shared no pains in her work for the church and the Christian life; of her great work in building up the organizations of the church in which her husband served as pastor; of her great assistance recently in the big centenary work, of which her husband was a prominent worker. The Rev. Wright read a letter from the Monticello Church and its people, where she had given much of her time, which was most beautifully expressed, telling of her place in the hearts of the village folks and of their deep grief in losing so good a friend. "Lead Kindly Light" was sung, which was well read by the Rev. Mr. Coons. The body was placed in the receiving vault in the Highland cemetery by Undertakers Wilcox and Carpenter.

TUXEDO ROAD STALLED CARS

From Detroit Through Niagara and Over Mountains—750 Miles—Way to Kingston, Black's Flying Squadron Was Stopped Only 30 Miles From Home.

How two Essex cars and their bigger brother, a Hudson touring car, battled with the snow covered roads between Michigan and New York crossed the snow and ice covered Allegheny mountains and the Cumberland range, fought the blizzard which was raging and were halted in the shadow of their new home, forms a very interesting as well as wonderful story of the power, stability and quality of these two cars. Peter A. Black, the local agent for the Essex and Hudson cars, was unable to secure shipment on account of the embargo which had been placed on shipping but this did not stop him from securing cars. He knew the ability of both these cars and called upon three of the best drivers in the state to help him carry his plan through.

Abel Abernethy, Ray Huling and Alderman Charles Warren who conducts the sporting goods store, came to the rescue and volunteered to make the seemingly impossible trip, from the factory in Detroit. The story of the trip from Detroit to Tuxedo, New York, where the cars were halted by the extremely deep, hard snow is a mighty interesting one. Had New York state taken the same action in opening roads and breaking through drifts as the other states passed through the cars would have arrived in Kingston.

Owing to the fact that the track made by sleighs is considerably narrower than an automobile or wagon track it necessitated the running of one wheel on the beaten track and the other in the deep snow alongside the roadway. Since the snow storms there has been no automobile through on the west side of the river and there has been little or no effort to open the roads. One of the party stated today that if the snow had not been so weak from excessive use he would have come on through just to show that it could be done but he was afraid the shovel and not the car would go back on him.

Over Rattled Ice.

The trip begun at the Hudson-Exeter factory in Detroit on Tuesday morning and the route of the first day lay through Toledo to Akron. All the way from Detroit to Toledo the roads, which are principally brick, were ice covered and deeply rutted with a stretch of two miles badly drifted and with only a single track. When it became necessary to turn out to pass another rig the cars were compelled to plow through deep snow banks.

From Toledo the snow was deeper and at the time a slight snowstorm was in progress. Little difficulty was experienced when it became necessary to pass trucks on other rigs. During the night of 200 miles to Akron. The cars which were out rapidly. The first day's trip brought the party to Akron shortly after 7:30 o'clock and after going to six hotels and several boarding houses the drivers were considering sleeping in their cars when some of the boys at the Y. M. C. A. agreed to double up and let the adventurers use their rooms.

All during the first day snow fell adding to the six inches which was encountered on leaving Detroit.

The second day's trip to Pittsburgh was over the same kind of roads, rutted, ice covered and bare in spots so as to wear out the chains and make constant repair necessary. In the vicinity of Pittsburgh the snow fell in surrounding quantities and the weather was colder. Leaving Pittsburgh the trip was uneventful to Ligonier where the party stopped for lunch.

A Snow Shovel Parade.

Here the hotel man informed the drivers that the Allegheny mountains were impassable and the cars never could get through as there was a blizzard raging up among the high peaks and the roads would be impassable for any car for a long time. This did not dampen the spirits of the three and they started out on the 3,000 foot climb to the top of the mountain peak and interesting in a 15.5 snow shower which they were charged $2.25 for. When asked why the sudden ascent was in prices of snow showers the owner stated that there had been 200 cars stuck there for three days just before the last storm and they had sold out. Supply and demand regulated the price and the demand was good.

The drivers of cars had gone out to government trucks and shovels on the roads out but after the recent storm it had been impossible to get through and the hotel management advised them to remain until roads could be opened, but the party was determined to go on.

Trucks Break Bands.

Shortly after leaving Ligonier the roads were found to be in good shape having recently been gone over with municipal trucks and snow plows. After driving a short distance the drivers decided that their brakes were sticking on the cars for they pulled back. A stop was made and the brakes were found in good shape but a chain track over the road showed the reason for the action of the cars. They had been traveling up a constant snow bank without knowing it. At this time the driver was blowing a fifty mile an hour wind and there was snow in the air. The thermometer stood at 20 below zero.

The Hudson-Exeter cars were the first to reach the top of the mountain and the cars were the first to be driven down. The cars were the first to be driven down the mountain and the cars were the first to be driven down the mountain.

they were afraid themselves of getting stuck. The snow banks alongside the road were 10 feet deep and the snow was blowing in from the sides of the road faster than it could be cleared out.

Backing the Drifts.

Traveling along at a fairly good rate of speed in second gear the three started on. They would go a short distance and stopping as though they had run into a stone wall. The snow piled up in front of the cars over the top of the radiator. Here the "bargains" snow shovel was called into use and the cars shoveled out. The snow drifted in over the top of the snow banks along side the road like a waterfall but fortunately the snow was light and the cars were able to plow through two feet of it with little difficulty.

Running along for a few miles through this kind of going the cars again encountered difficulty on a steep grade near a small village just as school was out. There were several signs taking pupils home and the automobilists called on them for assistance. With the assistance of the men who were behind the automobiles the cars were able to get out with assistance of eight men pushing.

Plenty of Thrills.

The seven mile down grade into Bedford at from 30 to 40 miles an hour furnished thrills enough for all. The cars would plow from one drift into another, radiator high, for an instant entirely buried and then plunge out on the other side. All the time the wind was so strong and the snow so blinding that it was impossible to see more than 20 feet ahead but the drivers kept on with this "fascinating" driving until they reached Bedford at 8 o'clock, having taken 11 hours to do 100 miles. The biggest part of the time was consumed in covering 30 miles of the trips.

One of 50,000 Chicken Dinners.

The night was spent at Hoffman's Inn, a very unusual place, being about the center of Pennsylvania touring it does a wonderful business serving chicken dinners, having served over 50,000 dinners the past season. He showed the members of the party many photographs of truck trails which passed over the Lincoln Highway during the war. Mr. Hoffman is head of the Lincoln Highway Association.

Winter before last it is estimated that 1,000 men were engaged in keeping the roads open in conjunction with trucks and tractors of the government. This expense is stood by the Lincoln Highway Association and not by the State of Pennsylvania. Mr. Hoffman marveled at the cars getting through during the storm and thought that the big Hudson cars must have broken the roads for the little Essex cars and was surprised when told that Mr. Abernethy with an Essex had been in the lead all the time.

Coasting Along a Precipice.

Leaving Bedford early in the morning the three mile grade over the Cumberland mountains was begun. The snow was as smooth as a macadam roadway and packed very hard. Both of the Essex cars went up the grade in high but the Hudson, which had to turn out to allow a truck to pass, had to continue in second gear. Coming down the opposite side of the mountain the roadway was sheer ice with a precipice several hundred feet high on the left hand side of the road with no protecting guard rail. This descent is similar to the "S" curve on the Flatkill Clove road which is considered one of the most dangerous in New York state. On this road the caravans met three cars on their way to Pittsburgh and at that moment it was impossible to stop so the cars were headed for the snow bank into which they half buried themselves. The rear end of the cars were thrown across the road blocking the road until they were shoveled out and moved ahead. The rear of the cars was less than five feet from the embankment.

After being straightened out the cars continued to skate down the hill encountering several thrilling slides and when Chambersburg loomed up in front the party breathed a sigh of relief. Here dusty roads were encountered and removing the chains the party started out for Gettysburg and Philadelphia making the 200 miles in good shape and feeling themselves nearly home.

Next morning they came north through Philadelphia and Princeton, striking considerable ice after leaving the latter place and from there into New Brunswick the roads were badly rutted and full of chuck holes making it necessary to stop every few feet. From New Brunswick they cut across through back roads to Elizabeth, Newark and Hackensack on into Tuxedo.

Stalled at Last.

At this point the road was closed and no cars had been through since the snow. Chains were again put on and starting out at 7 o'clock they had gone 6 1/2 miles in 2 1/2 hours. At this point the shore developed weakness and the party decided that it was foolish to try and break through. They could go scarcely 100 feet at a time, so shoveled a place to turn around and started back to Tuxedo. After getting stuck three or four times they finally arrived back in acceptable Tuxedo where they were given a room but after their 14 1/2 hours of hard work were unable to do anything to eat to satisfy them.

Lack of Preparation.

During the entire trip of 750 miles no trouble was experienced, no spare tubes were carried, there was not a spare shoe on the cars and not even an extra spark plug was in the tool box. The only trouble was with the chains which were worn out rapidly on the rough hard roads and required constant attention. Had New York state devoted as much time and effort to keeping the roads clear as the other states they passed through the party would have arrived home in two hours instead of being marooned at Tuxedo.

During the trip a number of photographs were taken but at the time the worst going was experienced a severe snow storm was in progress and no pictures could be secured. Everyone of the three drivers say they had the snow shovel held out and they had been driven in Kingston under their own power and if any one doubted their word they could get out to show them, but in this country will carry a much longer time to get them arrive in Tuxedo at last time.

SAYS WOMEN WILL DECIDE ELECTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Mar. 3.—The women are "the silent vote" in the next Presidential election. They will decide that election beyond any doubt.

This is the opinion of Miss Florence King, president of the National Woman's Association of Commerce, of Chicago, who has asked the Democratic and Republican National Committees to send a speaker to the annual convention of the business women of the country, which is to be held at Columbus, Ohio next July. Miss King is a patent attorney, and the only woman who ever won a case before the Supreme Court of the United States. This is the first time an organization of business women has asked the two political parties to state their case.

In sending invitations to the National Committees to state their case, Miss King announces that the high cost of living is the issue.

"The cartoonists and the paragraphers doubtless will have a lot of fun with me when I say the women constitute the great silent vote in the coming election," said Miss King. However, the real fun will come when that silent vote is counted.

"I refer to the woman who is engaged in the greatest business in the world—that of keeping an American home together. I mean the woman who has a dinner pail to fill six mornings a week and three children to get off to school five mornings a week. That job should be made as easy as possible for her, but we seem to be doing everything possible to make it as hard as possible. These are the women whose votes are going to count in the coming election."

"The issue will be the full dinner pail, and I do not believe the politicians will be able to sidestep it with any arguments or theories in regard to the League of Nations or how to run the railroads, or any other subjects that do not touch this high cost of living. The women of the country can name the next president, and that is why we business women want to hear what the party platform makers have to say."

"The best figures obtainable prior to the census just being tabulated continued Miss King. 'Show that fifteen million women will in all probability register. With these women thinking alike on any one national subject, it is easy to see that they will decide the next Presidential election.'

"It seems to me that the candidates had better say something on the high cost of living, and say it in good big black type in their platforms," concluded Miss King, "for I am confident that the man who can prove his serious intentions on this subject will be the one who will address the folks assembled on the east front of the Capitol on or about noon of March 4, 1921."

"What do you think of a woman for a place in the Cabinet?" Miss King was asked. "By all means," she answered, "and I think the totals in the next election will bring such an appointment by the man who will have been elected by the women of the United States."

MORGAN HILL.

Morgan Hill, March 3.—Not only did the Social Circle manage to meet this month despite the bad weather and roads but at the meeting which was held at Mrs. Anderson's home last week we had the pleasure of receiving a new member, Mrs. S. Alexitch, who will, we all feel quite sure prove a welcome addition to our little group.

Whenever the Circle is to be held at Mrs. Anderson's home it is considered an event of great importance by her little eight year old son, Lawrence, even though he himself is banished for the time to the home of his cousins or other playmates.

We mention here that it is a matter of business with Lawrence to return home before the cake has all disappeared. We learned at the meeting the other day that Lawrence had been quite concerned over the bad condition of the roads and he told his mother that if he thought some of the ladies would stay away on that account he would rather call for each one and bring them on his sled to his house.

Two Circle members, in one household he had calculated he could bring together in one trip on account of their slight build and light weight.

(Little women are after all a convenience at times like this although the two mentioned would much prefer to be tall, stately, and plump.) Being assured by his mother that he need not go to all this trouble Lawrence next turned his attention to shovelling away the snow so that he really made quite a good clear path in the road near his home.

Surely such civility as this could not be out done even by Sir Walter Raleigh himself.

Mrs. Wieland, Jr., was missed from the Circle. She has been quite ill and on Friday last week went to Kingston to see the doctor.

Miss Nettie Gundersen left for New York on March 1 for a visit of about one month.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rose have received word that their little five year old grandson, "Billy" Mulligan, who lives with his parents in Newark, N. J., has broken a leg. Mrs. Rose will leave here Tuesday of this week to visit her daughter and help care for Billy. Little Billy is well known here as he resided with his grandparents all the time during the war while his father served with the A. E. F. in France.

The school re-opened Monday, March 1, after being closed two weeks on account of many of the pupils being very ill and a number of others having to remain at home owing to the snowed up roads.

We are sorry to lose Peter Emanuel from our school. He was not only a bright pupil but also was very popular with both boys and girls of the school. He has returned to New York to continue his schooling there.

Twice in one day last week, once coming and once going back through our section our mail carrier's horse fell. Although the horse was slightly hurt we are glad it was not seriously injured. For the poor animal dragging a heavy load through badly drifted roads, all of us who have a heart feel much pity. For the mail carrier who does his best under very trying conditions we feel real appreciation.

LEIBHARDT HEIGHTS.

Leibhardt Heights, March 2.—Mrs. Eugene Quick spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elijah Krom.

Mrs. Amelia Mark spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. E. C. Fe-witt.

The young folks of this place and near this place are just anxious to attend a social or a party of some kind. But it seems that most of the folks are asleep at present.

Mrs. Eulalia Quick has been spending some time with her daughter in Accord.

Miss Lucila Hornbeck pleasantly entertained at her home, Saturday afternoon a number of her girl friends who were the Misses, Emma Pollock, Jennie DeWitt, Celestia Hendrickson, Carol Brown and sister Minnie. The afternoon was spent by playing games, and telling riddles. At a late hour of the afternoon refreshments were served. The young ladies who were present were all members of the U. & D. They will all meet at the home of Miss Celestia Hendrickson Saturday afternoon.

We were all shocked to hear the death of Herbert Diamond of Palen-ton.

Deals Quick is at his home in this place with a very bad attack of the grip. We all hope to see Mr. Quick better and able to be out again soon.

Word has been received that Mrs. Anna Hornbeck, who is working at Napanoch will spend the summer at her home in this place. It will seem good to have "Aunt Anna" as she is called with us again.

Miss Ethel Hornbeck and sister Florence, who are working in Kingston, spent Saturday and Sunday at their home in this place.

Miss Jennie DeWitt, and Miss Leulla Hornbeck were pleasantly entertained at the home of Miss Emma Pollock, Saturday afternoon past.

Mr. Shrybman is engaged in gathering ice out of L. E. Lawrence's mill pond. William Hornbeck and Henry S. DeWitt are helping him.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, March 3.—Miss Lucila Decker is visiting her parents over the week end, when she will return to her duties as teacher in White Plains.

Gustave Conner sold his horse to Abe Hendrickson of Leibhardt.

Miss Catherine E. Terwilliger and Elizabeth Flatz were at Ellenville Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Gorsch is visiting her daughter in Newark, N. J. Her youngest daughter, Sadie, and grandchild accompanied her. They will stay about two weeks.

Scott Sahler was in this district Saturday driving a fine span of horses as he is breaking two of his colts this winter. Trying Weeks was with him.

Owing to the fact that Jauitor Van Demark, of the Rochester school, had no fire started until 8:55, Miss Hazel G. Martine, teacher, dismissed school at 3:15. She did not think it safe for the pupils to remain in the cold building.

Herold Terwilliger has been drawing wood for Menzo Burger.

Several families around here have purchased and received their new Home Comfort ranges.

Henry Burger and family of Patanknik have rented the house of Mrs. Rhoda Burger at Hickory Corners. They are expected to take possession this week.

Several young folks, including Catherine Terwilliger, Lulu Conner, Elizabeth Flatz, Wilson Quick, Alvin and Edward Van Demark, Raymond Conner and Alfred Terwilliger, took advantage of the fine sleighing and had a coaxing party on Decker's Hill Sunday night.

Menzo Burger had to shovel a road from the main road to his house because of the exceptionally deep snow drifts.

Owing to the bad weather, the Farmers Club meetings have been suspended for the last six weeks. Walter Van Gabeck has distinued drawing logs for M. E. Green, owing to the deep snow in the woods. Jonah Crawford and son, Ross, are both laid up with heavy colds.

CLINTONDALE.

Clintondale, March 4.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will hold a hot chicken supper in the Orange Hall on Saturday evening, March 6. Supper served from 6 o'clock on until all are served.

The friends and relatives of Dr. Ver Nooy W. Weed of Brooklyn were shocked on Friday last to learn of his sudden death in a New York hospital. Dr. Ver Nooy W. Weed and family spent many of their summer months here in town with Mr. and Mrs. S. Coultant on Crescent avenue.

James W. Thorn, who has been ill for a long time, died on Wednesday last. His funeral was held in the Friends' Church on Sunday afternoon. Interment in the Highland Cemetery.

Miss Ina Gerald left on Thursday last for New Haven, Conn., to spend some time with her sisters, Mrs. Harry Roosa and Miss Flora Gerald, and will go from there to New York city to purchase her spring stock of millinery and dry goods.

C. L. Robinson of Woodcliff, N. J., spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. S. R. Lawrence.

TABASCO HEIGHTS.

Tabasco Heights, March 3.—George Terwilliger and niece, Esther Wynkoop spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Ephraim Krom and family at Krumville.

Myron Terwilliger, Jerry Van Kleeck and Charles Krom were in Napanoch with a load of pulp wood on Saturday.

Our teacher, Miss Coral Krom, spent from Friday until Monday at her home in Ellenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Krom received word on Friday last that their son, Edward, had died of the flu at his home in Montana, on February 13.

Edward went west eleven years ago, where he married Miss Coat of Idaho. He has never been home since. We extend our sympathy to the parents and brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Asa Wynkoop spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. David Berger at Kerhonkson. Mr. Berger is ill. We hope for his speedy recovery.

We are glad to see our mail carrier on his regular trips every day as the roads are in good condition now, the first since February 4.

C. E. BUDGET OF ACTIVITIES

Many Matters of Importance Taken Up at Monthly Meeting of Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor Cabinet Wednesday Evening—Plans for Coming Months Outlined.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor cabinet, held at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, considerable business was disposed of. Delegates were present from the societies of the Port Ewen Reformed Church, Albany Avenue Baptist Church, the Fair Street Reformed Church, the First Reformed Church, the Werts Street Baptist Church and the Reformed Church of the Comforter.

The matter of holding C. E. meetings at the Home for the Aged was discussed, and it was finally left in the hands of the president to report later.

Items of social interest and finance of the individual societies were also brought up and discussed. A communication from the United Society of C. E. was read in reference to stereopticon slides of C. E. efficiency. The matter of having a lecture delivered here was held over to a later date.

Friday evening a stereopticon lecture will be given in the Port Ewen Reformed Church "On the Battle Line With the Telephone."

Wednesday evening, March 10, the Rev. Putnam Cady will give a stereopticon lecture at the First Presbyterian Church in the interests of the local union. He will lecture on "The Remembrance of Missions."

A communication was read from the superintendent of the Quiet Hour, the Rev. Forrest P. Hunter. It was urged by him that the subject of Bible study and the Quiet Hour be taken up by the societies. John Haulenbeck, president of the First Reformed Church Society, was appointed local Quiet Hour superintendent.

During the month of March the society of the Church of the Comforter will visit the City Home.

A report of the rally held February 25, was given and each society will be urged to take up the matter of an alumni with a view of securing members for the recently formed organization.

The monthly service themes were discussed and the general theme is Church Loyalty. In brief it calls for a church attendance of 100 per cent C. E. membership at all church services; to bring out those who are members of the society; to organize a prayer circle, with more earnest work for the church. Also to conduct a personal soul winning campaign and hold sunrise prayer meetings on Easter Sunday, April 4.

Some time during April a stereopticon lecture entitled "United States History Covering the Six Most Important Points in the Evolution of Freedom," will be given in the Werts Street Baptist Church and the Reformed Church of the Comforter.

It is expected to hold a rally at the Ponckhockie Church on Abruzzo street some time during May.

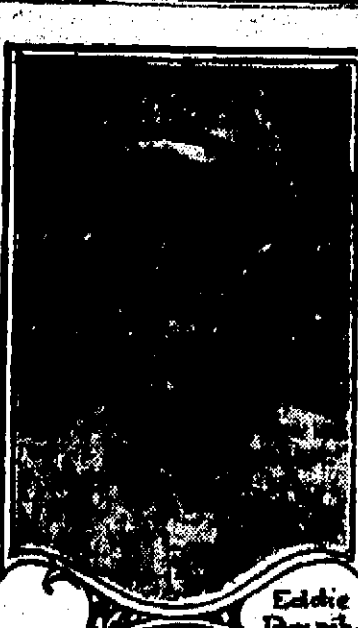

The Schoharie County Union challenge was discussed, and it was decided to conduct individual society rallies to gain results, at which time short addresses will be given by society superintendents in charge of the work. The superintendents are as follows: Junior superintendents, Miss E. Buge; membership, Mrs. W. S. Wood; C. E. expert, Miss Rebecca Benson; alumni superintendents, Miss J. E. Cromie; C. E. World, Luther S. Decker; and Quiet Hour, John Haulenbeck.

The individual society rallies will be held as follows:

Ponckhockie Church, March 14; Werts Street Baptist Church, March 21; Church of the Comforter, March 28; Albany Avenue Baptist Church, April 5; Fair Street Reformed Church, April 12; First Reformed Church, April 19; Port Ewen Reformed Church, April 26. These rallies will take the place of the regular C. E. meetings on those dates.

Farmer's Hard Luck.

Berth in the upper peninsula is so kind that, tickle her with a hoe and she laughs with a harvest, but there are some drawbacks, it seems. A farmer down at Au Train put out cabbage one year, and grew perfectly marvelous heads weighing, every one of them, forty pounds or less, but dog-gone the luck, next year the piece was just like cut-over land again, and it took the farmer all season to clean out the cabbage stumps.—Detroit News.

Eddie Roush

Reports that the New York National League Club had refused to trade Ross ("Pep") Young for Eddie Roush, of the Cincinnati Reds, has led to a deal of discussion in baseball circles. Roush won the National League batting crown last season, and his fielding, especially in the world's series, was nothing short of sensational. McGraw, manager of the Giants, has been quoted as saying that Young, who last season efficiently filled the shoes of Dave Robertson in right field, would one day develop into one of the greatest outfielders in the game. Young pounded the ball for a .311 average last season. McGraw, according to the report, offered to consider the deal if Larry Kopf, Red short stop, were thrown in with Roush.

RIVER BRIDGE REMOVED TODAY

The bridge placed on the Rhinecliff side of the river through the efforts of the local Chamber of Commerce was taken down today and brought to Kingston and stored in the Delaware avenue tabernacle by Superintendent Van Keuren of the board of public works. It was expected to remove it Wednesday, but there were several heavy loads that had to be taken across the river.

The ice in the Hudson river and Roundout creek is still holding fast, and there are no signs of it starting to break up as yet. Sleighs are still running across the river, and the ice is too thick as yet for the ferry. Transport to attempt to break a channel through.

The Seven Seas.

Did Kipling consult Hindu mythology when choosing the title for his well-known book, "The Seven Seas"? According to the Puranas, the earth is circular and flat, like the flower of a water lily. Its circumference is 1,000,000,000 miles. In the center is Mount Sumeru.

AND FRIDAY CONTINUOUS—ONE TO FIVE—SEVEN TO ELEVEN

ERIC VON STROHEIM

They call me "The Satan of the Screen." That's because, in "BLIND HUSBANDS" I play a polished villain in the only way a villain should be played—to make you hate him! But if you're a woman, I don't think you'll hate me—you'll only be fascinated—because I know so much about you! You'll know that I know how to show women when they're neglected—how to win their affection—how to place them where they'll finally be at my mercy. And though you'll slowly deny that the wife in "Blind Husbands" is to blame, you'll sympathize with her longing for love and you'll say it all at her husband's door—and mine. If you don't, you're a very unusual woman—just as "Blind Husbands" is a very unusual photoplay.

SAM DEGRASSE AS THE NEGLECTFUL HUSBAND—

Who managed in my foolish blindness, to overlook the fact that my beautiful wife was making deeper and deeper into the coils of the tempter. Then I woke up, afire to a situation that was terrible—my innocent wife was being seduced by a villain. What I did was simply, that comes to light in "BLIND HUSBANDS."

FRANCELLA BILLINGTON THE NEGLECTED WIFE—

Who, believing that I no longer held my husband's love, stood with my vile tempter alone on the summit of a mighty Alpine peak undecided whether to go down into the mire of the valley of degradation as he pleaded:

"Your husband does not love you—why should you love him?"

The course I eventually took you will learn in "BLIND HUSBANDS"—a tremendously human drama that grips 'til it hurts.

SILENT "SEPP"

By pointing out that "BLIND HUSBANDS" make unfaithful wives, I showed a neglected husband that no woman can exist without attention and that if she doesn't get it from one man she will turn to another. You won't take your eyes from the screen while you watch this tremendous human drama unfold in the midst of wonderful settings.

Blind, unseeing, insensate, you left me alone—left me to others—unshielded, unprotected, craving the love you husbands are too neglectful to give—no wonder we women—our wives—

SEE FOR YOURSELVES IN "BLIND HUSBANDS."

ALONG with the camera on the summit of a mighty Alpine peak, she followed to his pleading: "Your husband does not love you—why should you love him?" What did this lonely, unshielded, neglected wife do? Did she remain idle for him during—or did she acknowledge that it was true. Or did she find a way to win back her husband's love? Most of all, what did the husband do when he and the others were at last alone? See "BLIND HUSBANDS" and you won't be able to take your eyes from the screen while you watch this tremendous human drama unfold in the midst of the most wonderful outdoor settings. New playing.

OUSTED FIVE TO SUFFER FOR PARTY SAYS CONBOY IN SUMMING UP

Socialists Bitterly Indicted as First Rebels Since 1861-- "In, But Not of The United States" and "Perpetual Traitors."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., March 4.—Socialists of the United States were today arraigned as "perpetual traitors" and informed that their party, not alone the five men elected to the New York state assembly by them and subsequently suspended, was on trial for "disloyalty" by Judge Martin Conboy, summing up for the state in the Socialist inquiry.

Members of the assembly judiciary committee and a packed assembly chamber heard a most bitter and acrimonious indictment of the Socialist party as a group of men "in, but not of the United States" intending to resist the national honor.

"These five men," declared Conboy, "will suffer for the official pronouncements, platforms and declarations of the Socialist party of America, as declared in statements from the party's accepted leaders and for their participation in the party's disloyal and treasonable conduct."

He described the Socialist party as a "disloyal party composed of perpetual traitors" and charged Socialists in the United States had formed a third international and had cast

OPPOSE GOVT ANCHORAGE PLAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., March 4.—Surrender of the Chinese province of Shantung to Japan was denounced as "an infamy and a crime" by Senator Lodge, in the senate this afternoon, when debate on the peace treaty was resumed.

The sixth Lodge reservation, that withholding the assent of the United States to the turning over of Shantung to Japan by the Versailles peace conference, was again under consideration.

Lodge stated the purpose of the reservation was "one on which a majority of the senate and a vast majority of the American people were in full accord."

"The reservation would serve notice on the world that the United States refuses to become a party to the outrageous deal that gave Shantung to Japan," Lodge said. Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, administration leader, in opposing the reservation, sought to show that the proposals of the treaty involving Shantung merely involved the temporary relinquishment to Japan of those German rights in the Shantung peninsula Japan wrested by force of arms from Germany during the war.

Hitchcock was charged by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, with "seeking to block ratification."

"As a result of the senator's charged attitude, he is now working with the 'Hitchcock' who have always desired the treaty killed," Lenroot added.

"I am unwilling the United States should assent to and ratify the ravishment of China," Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, said. "By our action we should set the whole world back and demand Shantung be turned back to China and that we refuse to be guilty of any complicity in such a heinous crime."

Lodge offered to strike the names of the republic of China and the empire of Japan from the reservation.

Sir Robert Borden

Great Britain and the United States, by united purpose and action, could have prevented the war in 1914 and their concerted efforts in the future should be to do so, declared Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, who arrived at New York from Liverpool recently. "Perhaps the greatest result the world can expect from the horror and welter of the recent struggle is fuller understanding and closer co-operation between the commonwealth of the British Empire and that of the American Republic," added the Premier. Premier Borden, who had been on a visit to England was met at the pier by Lady Borden. They plan a vacation trip to South Carolina. The Premier refused to comment on the reports that he was slated to be the next Governor-General of Canada.

Historical Tree Felled by Wind.
A huge and venerable tree closely connected with two wars, although in quite different ways, was blown down by the wind, recently.

It stood near the main entrance of Walter Reed hospital, was a landmark at the big government institution and a favorite with the thousands of crippled men. On its trunk was a sign stating that during the time of Jubal Early's determined and almost successful attack on the national capital Confederate sharpshooters used its heavily leaved branches as a base of operations.—Washington Star.

Health and Vigor Must Be First Points to Keep in Mind When Making Selection.

Eggs may be perfectly fertile and yet hatch unsatisfactorily, and the first consideration must be the production of hatching eggs with strong, virile, well-nourished germs. This can be done only by a careful selection, mating and management of the breeding stock and affording the eggs the proper care after they are laid. Health and vigor must be the first points to keep in mind when selecting the breeders. The rule that good seed must be used if one expects a successful crop includes the chicken crop as well as those of grass and grain. The breeding flock should include only sound, healthy, well-fed stock, and all fowls that have at any time suffered from any serious illness or show any faults or defects, such as crooked back or breast, hawk-bill or snake-head, pale face, rattling in throat, foreign growths upon any part of the body, leg weakness or string halt should be promptly discarded.

Wet-Packed Poultry Arrives at Destination in Poor Condition—Slow Railroads Blamed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The chill room developed by the United States department of agriculture for the preservation of poultry and eggs and to prepare them for transportation to market has proved of great advantage to small poultry packers. Packers who have had to ship in less than carload quantities have found that wet-packed poultry has spoiled in enormous quantities because of slow transportation resulting from congestion on the railroads. Packers equipped with the small chill room recommended by the department have found that poultry dry-chilled and properly packed arrived at its destination in good condition, while wet-packed fowls in the same car were in bad order. It has been found also that the method recommended by the government requires less ice than the ice-packing process.

Not Advisable to Leave Them on Floor Too Long—Throw Sweepings on Garden Patch.

There is no litter better than leaves, outside of clover or any of the dried grasses, that fowls find nourishment in. But do not allow the leaves to lie too long on the floor, as the fowls pick at them until they reduce many to almost dust. MRS. BOND FOUND DEAD WEDNESDAY

At Her Home on West Chester Street.—Death Was Due to Illuminating Gas—Neighbors Missing Her, Searched and Found Her Dead in Chair in Kitchen.

Mrs. William Bond was found dead, seated in a chair in the kitchen of her home, No. 37 West Chester street, Wednesday evening about 5:30 o'clock by Mrs. Louis Deeres and Dr. A. C. Gates, neighbors who had missed her during the day. Death was due to inhaling illuminating gas accidentally.

Mrs. Bond has been residing alone since her daughter, Mrs. George K. Horton and family left Kingston about a year ago to join Mr. Horton who is in business in Kansas City. During the winter months she was living with her niece, Mrs. J. C. Mundy in Brooklyn, but was called home last week by the police who were desirous of ascertaining if anything had been stolen from the house which had been broken into during her absence from the city.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Louis Deeres, who resides nearby, and who was a friend of Mrs. Bond, not seeing her about during the day, called at the house. No one responded to her ringing the door bell or rapping on the door. She called to Dr. A. C. Gates who is also a neighbor, and told him that no one answered the door. They both then made an investigation, and Dr. Gates in glancing through the kitchen window saw Mrs. Bond sitting in a chair. He tapped on the window but receiving no response he realized something was wrong and forced the window.

On entering the kitchen he found it filled with illuminating gas, and that Mrs. Bond had been dead for several hours. It is believed that Mrs. Bond arose as usual that morning, and attended to her household affairs. The kitchen range had fire in it and also the heater in the cellar, which would seem to indicate that she had cared for the fires in the morning at least.

It is thought that she started the gas plate in the kitchen to take off the chill while the range fire was coming up; had fallen asleep in her chair, and her feet had accidentally disconnected the tubing leading from a wall gas jet to the gas plate.

Coroner W. N. Conner was notified and the body was taken in charge by Undertaker E. A. Kelly, and will be held awaiting word from the dead woman's daughter, Mrs. Horton, who has been notified. As far as known Mrs. Bond's daughter and her niece, Mrs. Mundy, are the only living relatives.

SMOKE NUISANCE.

Benedy Lies in Use of Gas and Coke Says Dr. Manning.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 4.—The householder is to blame for the smoke nuisance in our large cities, according to Dr. Van H. Manning, director of the United States bureau of mines, who declares that smoke can be banished only by the use of coke and gas for heating and cooking.

Each year, said Dr. Manning, smoke causes property damage estimated at from $12 to $20 for each city dweller in the United States. In large cities where soft coal is burned for domestic heating about sixty percent of all the smoke in the atmosphere is made in the residential section in house heating furnaces. To eliminate this nuisance and to make the city a pleasant place to live in and enjoy the good health that goes with a pure, wholesome atmosphere, the bureau of mines urges that coke and gas be substituted for soft coal.

His Priest: Fined $10.

It cost Frank Bruno of Glasco ten dollars to hit Rev. Matthew Di Iorio, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, in the month of Tuesday. Bruno was arraigned before Police Justice Chidester by Sergeant McGovern and Trooper Harrison, of the state police, Wednesday morning on the charge of assaulting the priest, and after hearing the evidence the fine was imposed by the court and Bruno settled. The assault grew out of the actions of some young Italian boys loitering and smoking in the Glasco post office, which is against the government regulations. The postmistress made a complaint and asked the priest's assistance and he visited the office and advised the boys to stop smoking there and go home. An argument followed and Bruno intervened by striking the priest, the blow cutting his lip. On the stand Bruno and two witnesses swore that the priest had struck Bruno and he retaliated.

CARPENTIER MUST QUIT RING

Following Bout With Dempsey—That is Condition on Which Mile, Elsassar Promised to Wed French Champion Pugilist.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, March 4.—Mile, Georgette Elsassar, the beautiful young girl Georges Carpentier will marry this month, accepted the famous pugilist upon the condition that he retire from the prize ring after his forthcoming fight with Jack Dempsey for the world's championship. Mile Elsassar revealed this today herself.

"I told Georges when he proposed to me that he must never again fight for money after the Dempsey match no matter whether he wins it or loses it," said the fiancée. "That was the one thing I insisted upon before consenting to become Mme. Carpentier. I do not approve of professional fighting, I may be old-fashioned, but that is my view. I have seen Georges in the ring only once, and that is when he gave a scientific boxing exhibition for charity."

Mile, Georgette is a "home girl." She never appears with Carpentier at Ciro's or Maximo's, or Claridge's in the Paris "white light" district, but is content with "parlor court." Carpentier's friends say they have never seen her with him in any of the flashing cabaret restaurants. Carpentier had plenty of opportunities to pay attentions to the beautiful women who are known in Paris night life, but his choice fell upon the demure Georgette.

Mile, Georgette's grandfather is a native of Holland, but she is of the French blonde type with sparkling blue eyes and vivacious spirit. She is a splendid skater and a lover of outdoor sports, but despite her interest in Carpentier, she does not care for the manly sport.

PERTINAX ON GERMAN LOAN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, March 4.—"Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, telegraphing from London today, accused Premier Nitti of Italy, with "making dangerous proposals" regarding the German peace treaty and suggesting revisions of the Hungarian treaty.

According to "Pertinax," Premier Nitti suggested that the Hungarian terms be changed to give Hungary 3,000,000 Magyars that were to be included in territory allotted to Roumania, Jugo Slavia and Czechoslovakia.

Stephen Lausanne, editor of the Matin, stated in a telegram from London, that Premier Nitti had suggested a suspension or virtually the entire elimination of German indemnities, but that the proposal was unanimously rejected by the other members of the supreme council.

Premier Nitti, according to London advices, originated the suggestion that the allies furnish Germany with materials necessary for the normal functioning of German industry, in the meantime authorizing Germany to negotiate a loan in neutral countries.

"Pertinax" raises a new point by asking whether the proposed German loan would be authorized by the inter-allied reparations commission and controlled by it.

Political sharpeners today, exactly a year in advance of the next inauguration, stress the first seven names mentioned:

Democrats: William G. McAdoo and A. Mitchell Palmer and Herbert Hoover—in case he should turn out to be a Democrat.
